District 7360 | Club 5296

Alisha Puller, Founder & Director

Stars That Shine is a 501(c)(3) West Virginia nonprofit dedicated to empowering, educating, and leading young women toward a brighter future. Serving the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia and beyond, we provide empowerment workshops, mentorship, academic support, leadership training, and life-changing opportunities to help girls overcome barriers and reach their full potential.

In addition to our empowerment, education, and leadership programs, we are committed to addressing period poverty. Through our Girls United PERIOD Project, we are providing local schools and communities with free access to period products to ensure no girl misses school due to lack of essential supplies.

Our mission is to offer support to girls through empowerment programs, education services, peer-support groups, mentorship, internships, scholarships, and innovative programs that encourage personal growth.

Let's
CELEBRATE

Top left photo: Children's Home Society received a grant last year for $5,000. The grant was for Dare to Attach kits, placement bags and Lifebook pilot project. 2 employees from CHS came to report back on the success of the project and show us what we helped support. Top right photo: Marilyn Schoon receives her Paul Harris +6. Bottom right photo: Matt Cole wins the cash pot from the 50/50 raffle. Matt donated the entire cash pot back to the club as a donation!! You are awesome Matt!!!!
